
SOUTH DAKOTA BOARD OF REGENTS

flexibility in terms of course content and curriculum. The switch to Foundations of Communication enables instructors to teach the course in a way that introduces students to the foundations of communication (organizational communication, interpersonal, public speaking, small groups, and more) while meeting the exact same SLOs. Changes like the proposed name change for CMST 101 follow best practices in the field of Communication Studies and are represented in substantive scholarship and work done by the National Communication Association (NCA) in their projects on Basic Course & General Education.
